WHO KILLED JUNGHAUS?

MYSTERY SURROUNDING THE MURDER OF AN OLD MAN.

Detectives Unable to Prove the Guilt of the Man They Suspect—Other Crimes.

PROBIA, Ill., March 11.—The cruel murder of Bernard Junghaus, the old German whose body was found floating in the river close to the shore Saturday night, is mystifying the police. While they are morally certain that the crime was committed in a den on Fulton street run by a local desperado named Bill Luckey, they have been unable to find a bit tangible evidence to corroborate their suspicion.

Last night a detective made a startling discovery while searching the house, which is located on the edge of a dreary swamp. It is a dismal, uninviting locality, and can only be approached by a narrow walk that has been built over the mire and slush which extends to the lower run. The sewer it must be remembered is a very large one, and as it always contains a liberal supply of water it could readily be used by the inmates of the house to escape in case of a fire.

In looking under a parlor carpet found the ring bolt of a trap door. Catching it with both hands he raised the door and then by the light of a lantern discovered a square shaft that led direct to the Fulton street sewer.

A narrow ladder clung to one of the sides and the officer cautiously made his way to the foot of it and found a row of fastenings to the lower run. The sewer it must be remembered is a very large one, and as it always contains a liberal supply of water it could readily be used by the inmates of the house to escape in case of a fire.

The house, which is notorious as the resort of thieves, chief among whom is Luckey, was the last place in which old Junghaus was seen alive. He went there last Monday afternoon, after a prolonged debauch, in company with Luckey and another notorious fellow named like Hummel. Mrs. Luckey, who with her husband, is under arrest, says he went away shortly after 4 o'clock Wednesday evening, saying he intended to take the 11 o'clock train for Chicago.

She explains her possession of the old man's watch and gold ring by saying he gave them both to her.

Chief Flynn does not believe this story, since a number of German citizens with whom the old man was intimate told him that the articles were hardly in time to see a tray of valuable diamond rings disappear. He ran out in an instant, but the thief had disappeared up the stairway at the side of his store. The break was made with a rock which was used to break down the door, and the neighborhood is kept almost as light as day.

While Mr. Doman was waiting on a customer he heard a terrific crash at the end of the street, and he hurriedly ran to see a tray of valuable diamond rings disappear. He ran out in an instant, but the thief had disappeared up the stairway at the side of his store.

The tray contained forty-two fine diamond rings valued at about $5,000. The man was a slender white man about 5 feet 8 inches high, without whiskers, and wore a black suit and light-colored hat. After he ran up the stairs in front he was seen to descend to the street in the rear and go out through the aisle between the Michigan Exchange and the Gould building. The sheriff and other officials, with a set of trained bloodhounds, are now on his trail.

CONVICTED OF MATRIDE.

Young Sharkey Found Guilty of Murdering His Mother.

HAMILTON, Ohio, March 11.—Elmer L. Sharkey, who has been on trial here for two weeks for the murder of his mother, has been found guilty of murder in the first degree. Sharkey's defense was insanity. He is barely of age. On the night of Jan. 13, 1889, Sharkey, who lived with his mother on a farm two miles from Eaton, Preble county, entered her room and struck her with a huge wooden maul while she lay asleep in bed. The blow crushed her skull and killed her instantly.

The boy said that burglars had entered the house and killed his mother and came up stairs after him, when he jumped through the window and ran. A few days after Sharkey was arrested, and subsequently confessed to the killing and told the whole story, but claimed that he knew nothing about it until it was all over. Elmer wanted to marry Katie Straw, who lived in his neighborhood, but his mother objected. He imagined that if his mother was out of the way there would be no obstacle to his marriage and that he would come into possession of the 1st acre homestead. Mrs. Sharkey having threatened to disown him if he married the girl.

CRIME IN COURT.

The Omaha Desperado Who Shot Three Chicago Men Arraigned.

CHICAGO, March 11.—Patrick Crowe, the Omaha desperado who created so much excitement last Friday evening by rushing through the streets of Chicago prominently holding his revolver, was arraigned before Justice Bradwell at the army court.

The prisoner acted strangely and declared that he didn't remember anything about the shooting. As none of his victims was able to appear in court his case was continued until March 20. For shooting Officer Briscoe he was held in $5,000 bonds, in the Officer Linville case $2,500, for wounding Mr. Cole $1,000, and on the robbery charge—stealing jewelry from Annie Hall—$1,000. The prisoner being unable to furnish bail was again locked up.

His Wife Confessed on Him. ALEXANDER, Kan., March 11.—Bert Short, wanted for burglary and assault on his wife at Solomon City, was arrested at Oregon, Mo., and will be brought back under a requisition. He nearly killed his wife, who in consequence attempted suicide, at which Short left the State. Mrs. Short confesses to a murder committed in Missouri and to several burglaries here.

CROOKED POSTMASTERS CAUGHT.

Two Men Arrested for Getting the Best of the Government.

DENVER, March 11.—Postoffice Inspector W. F. Patterson, in charge of the Rocky Mountain district, has succeeded in running down two delinquent postmasters. J. J. Thurman, late of Genoa, Iowa, left that town nearly a month ago without stating to his wife and three children or his deputy where he was going. An investigation of his accounts showed a shortage of $2,000 in government funds. He came to Denver two weeks ago, and when arrested made a full confession.

The other postmaster is Horace Greeley Stewart, alias Ed Dunham, who while in charge of the mails at Dallas, Tex., appropriated $1,100 belonging to the money order fund. He has been traced all over Nevada and the terri-bles, until finally he was located in Eureka, a small Utah mining camp some distance from a railway. He was arrested on Saturday. Stewart is thirty-one years of age, the son of Hiram Stewart well known throughout Kansas. He was educated at the Law University at Ann Arbor, and is a fluent talker and capable lawyer.

OFFICERS PREVENT A LYNCHING.

The Mayor of Spartaburg Repulses a Mob and Spikes Its Cannon.

COLUMBIA, S. C., March 11.—A mob of several hundred men procured a small cannon and rode into the town of Spartaburg yesterday for the avowed purpose of attacking the jail and lynching George Turner, who shot his brother-in-law, Edward Finger, on Friday.

When the mob reached the public square Mayor Henneman, at the head of the police force and with pistol in hand, repulsed them and spiked the cannon and locked up. After further hostilities and threats of returning for Turner later on, the would-be lynchers finally dispersed, but further trouble is feared. Sheriff Nichols with a strong posse is guarding the jail, and is determined to protect the prisoner at all hazards.

CORN AND WHEAT ON HAND.

Statistics from the Department of Agriculture.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—The statistical report of the Department of Agriculture for March relates to the distribution and consumption of corn and wheat. It makes the proportion of the corn crop in the hands of growers 45.9 per cent or 970,000,000 bushels, and of the wheat crop 31.9 per cent or 159,500,000 bushels. The stock of corn on hand is the largest ever reported in March, of the largest crop, after the mildest winter. The average of eight annual returns is 777,000,000 bushels.

The estimated consumption to March 1 is 1,143,000,000 bushels; a figure exceeded only last year and in 1886. The proportion of merchantable corn of the crop of 1889, is 85.7 per cent; exceeded in recent years only by those of 1884 and 1886. The average value of all corn on the 1st of December was 28.3 cents per bushel. The average on the 1st of March was 27.9 cents for merchantable and 19.5 for unmerchantable, making an aggregate of value $35,000,000 less than the December estimate.

The wheat crop of 1889 was exceeded by the crops of 1880, 1882, and 1884. The average remainder in the hands of growers on the 1st of March for ten years past has been 130,000,000 bushels. The average on the 1st of March was 450,000,000. Only in years having a product much below this average has the March remainder fallen below 130,000,000 bushels, with the sole exception of 1886, when it was 357,000,000.

Most of the wheat in farmers' hands is in States that have no surplus over consumption, or in those in which the surplus is small. The surplus in the State of Ohio is 18,000,000 of which will be required for spring seed, and the remainder is scarcely more than four months' consumption of their population.

Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, Missouri and Kansas, the only winter wheat States east of the Rocky Mountains combined, have only 60,000,000 bushels, half of which will be needed at home and a part of the remainder is commercially unavailable for export. It is seen, therefore, that the available supply for exportation, and for home distribution to July, is small. The depleted farm reserves have been measurably filled, except in a few States, but it will require the pressure of high prices to squeeze any considerable portion of them into commercial distribution.

BIG BLAZE IN CINCINNATI.

Stern & Meyers' Clothing House Burns, Causing a Loss of $300,000.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, March 11.—A few minutes before 10 o'clock this morning a flames burst, as if by an explosion, from all the upper stories of Stern & Meyers' clothing house at the northeast corner of Third and Vine streets. Before the engines could get into the games were through the roof and the building was doomed. Not a shred of the stock could be saved. The loss is $300,000, at least. It is probably well insured. The building was of stone, six stories high, and was one of the most beautiful in the city.

FLAMES AT KANSAS CITY.

Fire in a Crockery Warehouse Causes a Loss of $100,000.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 11.—At an early hour this morning fire was discovered on the fourth floor of the warehouse of the B. C. Clark Crockery Company. The fire had gained such a strong headway that the fire department was unable to extinguish it, and all they could do was to prevent it spreading to the adjoining buildings. The warehouse and contents were wholly destroyed. The loss is estimated at $100,000. The origin of the fire is unknown.

FACTS WORTH KNOWING.

In all diseases the remedy used must be non-irritating. The medical profession has been slow to learn this. Nothing satisfactory can be accomplished with dobanes, snuff, powders, cathartics, because they are irritating, do not reach the affected surfaces and should be abandoned as worse than failures. A multitude of persons who had for years borne all the worry and pain that catarrh of the rectum and sigmoid colon brought about, were cured by Dr. J. C. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.

Take Care of Your Eyes.

Dr. B. Minkes, the eminent oculist of Detroit, Mich., will treat every eye in this country during the winter. Any one suffering with weak eyes, or eyes abused by inferior glasses, should not fail to see him. Orders left at the post office will be promptly attended to. No extra charge for examining or visiting patients at their homes.

The Elk county, Pennsylvania, deer park of Hall & Klac is a mile square. All around the place a fence made of tree stumps from 10 to 15 feet in height, and inside the brush and trees are so thick that people are easily lost there. Approaches to the park are so arranged that the deer coming up find little difficulty in getting an entrance, but once inside there is no possible means of getting out. Inside the fence the ground slopes so much that the most expert jumper in the deer tribe would not attempt to get out. It is so thick that there are not less than one hundred and fifty deer in the park.

Capt. Joshua King, of Belpre, Ohio, has without question the largest and most complete collection of Indian relics, curiosities, moccasins, etc., any single individual in Ohio. His collection of coins dates back to the first issue of continental money, coming down with very few breaks and omissions to the present day. His collection of copper coins is nearly perfect from the first issues. But one or two are missing from the continuous chain. The Indian relics embrace tomahawks, arrow and spear heads, cooking utensils, etc., many of which are perfect. Confined to those of valuable mineral specimens and copies of many of the earliest American newspapers.

Wall Street.

NEW YORK, March 11.—In the stock market this morning there was little interest in business done outside of Reading, while the transactions in that stock reached extraordinary large figures. The open prices were generally only slight fractions different from the closing figures of Saturday. At 10 o'clock the market was quiet except for Reading, and generally steady at a shade under first prices. After 1 o'clock Reading showed a smaller proportion in the deal. The stock exchange activity was maintained with larger transactions in the general list. The price of Reading regular railway was maintained at 100, but cash sales were made at a difference of only 1 per cent. The list displayed a firm tone but there was no marked movement during the hour of trading. The market was fairly active and firm, generally at but slight changes from the opening figures. Money is easy at 3 1/2 per cent. Barometer 30 1/2.

NEW YORK, March 11.—Wheat—Dull. ## THE LAST LONG SLEEP.

Mrs. Fred C. Burpee.

At six o'clock this morning, after many months of patient suffering, death came to the home of Mr. Fred C. Burpee and called away the spirit of his wife, who, for the past three years, has ministered to his comfort and happiness. Mattie C. Burpee was the daughter of Edwin W. Barker, of the town of Janesville. She was twenty-one years two months and twenty-six days old; just entering upon a life that promised much of happiness, and possessed of a spirit that yielded much of joy and consolation in the home.

For the past year or more she has been a constant sufferer from that fatal disease, consumption, and while bravely fighting its encroachments at every step, it was painfully apparent to the anxious household that the struggle could but end in death. When her baby, Camilla, was laid away six weeks ago, it seemed that the mother could not tarry long. Patient in all her sufferings and cheerful under the most trying ordeal, her memory will long be cherished in the home and by the many friends who knew and loved her for her many graces of character.

To the husband who mourns the double loss of wife and baby, generous sympathy will be extended.

The funeral will occur at the home on Pleasant street Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Harriet K. Chapin.

Harriet K. Chapin, for many years a consistent and faithful member of the Congregational church of Emerald Grove, Wis., departed this life at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Charles Chilcott, March 4th, 1890, after a long and painful illness.

The deceased was a native of the state of New York, having been born in the city of New York, on the 4th day of January, A. D. 1825, where he received his early training preparatory for the duties and responsibilities of life, and his chosen profession—the law. Soon after he had been admitted to practice in the courts of his native state, he became a citizen of this state, and immediately prior to his death he was in the city of Milwaukee.

He was a man of high ability, persuasive eloquence, thorough, earnest and vigorous devotion to his duties, and a man of high character and high moral principles.
